Tongue Diagnosis – CEU Course

$170.00

15 Continuing Education Units (CEU)

NCCAOM PDA Provider #758 ·
CEP 752 – Distance Learning –
Category 1

An essential tool in Chinese medicine as the Tongue nearly always shows the true condition of the patient. It is particularly useful in complex, chronic conditions manifesting wi contradicting symptoms and signs. Its strength relies in the fact that it is nearly always reliable and objective. Compared to pulse diagnosis, it is also much easier to learn!

Tongue Diagnosis is aimed at teaching participants the essentials of Tongue diagnosis from the beginning. Besides presenting the traditional aspects of Tongue diagnosis, the course also presents Giovanni's important insights derived from 35 years of practice. Course topics include:

- Basics of Tongue diagnosis, the normal Tongue
- Tongue topography
- Pale and Red Tongue
- Red Tongue in exterior conditions – Heat and Fire
- Red points and red spots, white vesicles
- Shen disturbances, Empty Heat
- Purple Tongue, Purple chest area and sublingual veins

- Tongue-body shape, swollen
Tongue
- Teeth marks, cracks, deviated
Tongue, stiff tongue
- Tongue coating, Tongue without coating
- Coating with root or without root
- Thickness, distribution and colour of coating
- Tongue diagnosis and herbal therapy
- The Tongue in Wen Bing disease

This course consists of a 170-slide presentation with video narration, text, diagrams and over 200 photos, together with an audio live lecture on Tongue Diagnosis by Giovanni. The Audio Lecture section builds on the presentation material and adds informative spontaneity and improvisation.

Courses are registered to provide CEUs from the California, Florida and Texas State Acupuncture Boards and NCCAOM. The courses are also

Biography

Giovanni Maciocia (1945 – 2018) was a highly respected author, lecturer and practitioner of Chinese medicine. He trained in England at the International College of Oriental Medicine graduating in acupuncture in 1974 after a three-year course. He went on to study Western herbalism and graduated from the National Institute of Medical Herbalists in 1977. He attended three postgraduate courses in acupuncture (1980, 1982, 1987) at the Nanjing University of Traditional Chinese Medicine, one of the foremost teaching institutions in China, where he was later appointed

"Giovanni Maciocia is a respected guide in this transition period of East Asian medicine to the western arena. His accomplishments as a teacher and writer have made him a major force in this successful movement from one knowledge and clinical experience helped by his ability to read Chinese which gave him access to Chinese medicine textbooks, old and modern.

Chinese Medicine, Practice of Chinese Medicine and Tongue Diagnosis in Chinese Medicine are all outstanding contributions of scholarship and clinical acumen, and this present volume Obstetrics and Gynaecology in Chinese Medicine significantly adds to his accomplishments. Indeed, one begins to see the outlines of a Maciocia transmission or tradition existing within our very own generation."

Well known for his rigorous and meticulous style, he combined a thorough knowledge of Chinese medicine with 39-years clinical experience. While firmly rooted in traditional Chinese medicine, Giovanni's ideas were nonetheless innovative. He adapted the theories of Chinese medicine to better address Western conditions and Western diseases not prevalent in ancient China.

Giovanni authored many articles published in professional journals. He notably formulated an innovative and original new theory on the aetiology and pathology of asthma and allergic rhinitis. He also formulated a theory on the aetiology, pathology, diagnosis and treatment of M.E. (Post-Viral Fatigue Syndrome) which, being a new disease, did not exist in the Chinese literature. This article was published in a Chinese medical journal, an honour rarely bestowed on foreign writers in China.

From Dr. Ted Kaptchuk's foreword to Giovanni's book

Giovanni is the author of several seminal textbooks on Chinese Medicine: Tongue Diagnosis in Chinese Medicine, The Foundations of Chinese Medicine, The Practice of Chinese Medicine, Obstetrics and Psyche in Chinese Medicine. His books represent important milestones in the development of Chinese Medicine and have widely contributed to its spread in the West. Translated into several languages, they are used as reference texts by the most important academic institutions of Chinese medicine and by practitioners all over the world.

In 1994 he founded Su Wen Herbs, a company which oversees the production of his line of herbal formulas under three lines: The Three Treasures, Women's Treasure, and The Little Treasures. The formulas are based on classical Chinese formulae, adapted by Giovanni to address patterns more commonly seen in clinical practice in the West.

Giovanni was honoured by his inclusion in the brochure celebrating the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the Nanjing University of Chinese Medicine, where he is described as the "Father of Chinese Medicine in Europe".
