Motion: Dr. Link

Second: Dr. Mathews

Action: Motion carried unanimously

6. Approve or disapprove of hiring exam writers to prepare the State of Nevada licensing exam and at a cost not to exceed $2500 per exam (For Possible Action).

Dr. Tracey stated that she spoke to an experienced exam writer who will prepare 30 questions and her billing rate is $75 to $100 per hour. The writer anticipates that it will take her about 4-5 hours for these questions.

Motion: Dr. Mathews motioned for the exam writer to prepare 30 questions with the cost not exceeding $600

Second: Dr. Link

Action: Motion carried unanimously

7. Update of the legislative actions (Discussion Only).

Dan Musgrove stated that:

SB 466: the provision wherein holistic doctors were exempted from our statute was defeated.

SB 292: the provision that team doctors be allowed to practice oriental medicine on team members is still intact.

AB 456: the chiropractic bill involving the physical therapists died in committee.

SB 69: The reciprocity professions bill is hung up with the finance committee.

Mr. Musgrove stated that there is an issue regarding tattoo artists advertising the medical benefits from piercings where they have no training in this area. Dr. Tracey is on the agenda to discuss this topic before the public health board on June 9. Dr. Tracey stated that the tattoo artists claim to treat headaches, weight loss and are practicing medicine without a license and this is an issue for public safety.

Mr. Musgrove also stated that the Board of Physical Therapists wants to sit down and work with the Board of Oriental Medicine. Dr. Tracey stated that she will meet with the Board of Physical Therapists and bring the issues back to the Board and the goal is to make sure that public safety is protected.

8. Discussion of updates on Acupuncture Day and the Proclamation (Discussion Only).

Dr. Tracey recounted the events at the legislature during Acupuncture Day. She thanked Dan Musgrove for his efforts. She sat with Senators Segerblom and Parks. She stated that Dr. Davies represented Womg and acupuncture in a very professional manner and the Proclamation was well done. She stated that Acupuncture Day turned out to be a nice day which highlighted the integrity and professionalism of the practice. She mentioned that educational handouts were given out to the public. Dr. Tracey also expressed her appreciation to Senator David Parks, Senator Richard "Tick" Segerblom, Senator James Settelmeyer, Senator Julia Raitti, Assemblywoman Maggie Carlton, Assemblyman Mike Sprinkle, and the staff from the Governor's office for their support of Oriental Medicine and Acupuncture.

9. Discussion regarding the special assistance by Dr. Daniel Davies and Sarah Davies for Acupuncture Day (Discussion Only).

See item #8.

10. Discussion of appreciation to Senator David Parks, Senator Richard “Tick” Segerblom, Senator James Settlemeyer, Senator Julia Raitti, Assemblywoman Maggie Carlton, Assemblyman Mike Sprinkle, and the staff from the Governor's office for their support of Oriental Medicine and Acupuncture (Discussion Only).

See item #8.

Learning Objectives

Describe the history of the San Jiao

Associate the San Jiao to Vagal Nerve function

Breakdown each of the 3 “burners” into their component parts

Review the salient points on the San Jiao Meridian

Summarize the function and indications of the Shu Points and apply that to the San Jiao channel

Discuss the Ren Mai’s overall function

Introduce a selection of clinically useful points on the Ren Mai (Conception Vessel) meridian

Discuss the Du Mai’s overall function

Introduce a selection of clinically useful points on the Du Mai (Governing Vessel) meridian

Explore the anatomy and indications surrounding LV14

- Describe and summarize the mechanisms by which acupuncture exerts effect on pain modulation and musculoskeletal function
- Describe joint and muscle mechanoreceptor anatomy and physiology and how they relate to acupuncture
- Define and discuss the ascending and descending neurological pathways affected by acupuncture
- Outline the importance of cortical representation and the sensory/motor homunculus and relate them to acupuncture points with examples
- Demonstrate the importance of the cerebellum and its role in acupuncture treatment of musculoskeletal disorders

Identify the 3 types of acupuncture points and identify what a homeostatic point is

Describe the phases (latent, passive and active) of acupuncture points

Illustrate the anatomical characteristics that make up all acupuncture points

Outline the location of 25 commonly used homeostatic acupuncture points

Differentiate discrete anatomical characteristics that make up homeostatic acupuncture points

Explain the common indications and cautions for use of the homeostatic acupuncture points

Review the neuroanatomy of spinal nerves and explain how it relates to paravertebral (Bladder

Shu) points

Discuss and demonstrate needling technique for the homeostatic acupuncture points

- Demonstrate point location

WHO AM I

- “The biggest reason people don't succeed is because they don't expose themselves to the existing information” - Jim Rhome
- I'm just Brad. I have no magic needle, no golden touch, I have no privileged information or powerful potions. If I can do it, anybody can! Step by step, needle by needle, and patient by patient. We learn. All this information is available to everybody. There are no secrets!

You just need to PRACTICE and CRITICALLY think

www.eLotus.org

WHO AM I

In 2007, I graduated from acupuncture school, and needed a break. I started a non-profit, and went volunteering for the next 3 years. I volunteered in India, Vietnam, Honduras, Guatemala, and in America.

• I failed miserably the first two years in acupuncture practice. It was spectacular! ☹
– Plastic surgeon, detox center, MD, allergist clinic, nurse practitioner, bio identical, spa, wellness center, therapy combo, solo practice, house calls, group, volunteer, working hourly, ER hospital, herbal house call van deal, old folks home, 4 overseas volunteer trips.

In my clinic, I see 100 people a week on my own, each patient individually, no group treatments, no assembly line acupuncture. I see 25-30 people a day, and I work Mon-Thursday, 3 tx rooms. My wife runs the front office, I do all the herbs, treating, insurance, cleaning, laundry, make herbs, ordering of supplies and materials. We have only been open since 2010 March. We were at 76 people the first week. I DIDN'T KNOW ANYBODY IN MY AREA! It was a small town, 12,000 people mostly of fisherman/farmers/blue collar workers, no acupuncture ever in the town

The biggest concern from the local population: how I could do or be good at Chinese medicine when I'm not Chinese.

Why am I here talking? Because I'm a novice. Because I'm new. Because I don't know that much. If I can do this? YOU ALL CAN!!! I'M NOT SPECIAL!

WHO AM I

We know to treat internal:

Diet, Lifestyle, Environment, Genetics, Exercise, Mental outlook Job, Relationships
Medications, Recreational habits

The list goes on...

Lets talk about acupuncture like those don't matter, otherwise we will spend all day arguing about what the correct lifestyle is or isn't.

Its up to the practitioner how to decide how to handle these "non acupuncture point" issues.

In my clinic all "internal" issues, 100%, get herbs! But I know some of you JUST do acupuncture! This is why we chose to use these pathologies and Tung acupuncture.

MASTER TUNG THEORY

Some unique ideas with Theory

Channel relationships
Mirror images
Tissue correspondences
Reaction areas or nerve areas
5 element thinking
Blending of channels
12 segments, the macro in the micro,
3 levels, 3 jiaos, 3 insertions

What do Tung points and 9.8 meters squared have in common?

www.eLotus.org

MASTER TUNG THEORY

I won't spend all day on theory.

I will introduce the relevant theory as we explain the points, you will need to take notes.

You can use your new Tung points with your TCM points.

The great thing about "internal" issues for TCM people is that, aren't all points distal? So think in your head, if its easier, its not a Tung point, it is some new points from TCM I haven't learned yet. ☺

If you want further theory, please continue your education. Due to time constraints, I cannot always discuss every theory.

www.eLotus.org

DISTAL is not a "Chinese theory"

It's a Verified truth we find in the brain

www.eLotus.org

A cortical homunculus is a physical representation of the human body, located within the brain. A cortical homunculus is a neurological "map" of the anatomical divisions of the body. There are two types of cortical homunculus; sensory and motor.

The amount of cortex devoted to any given body region is proportional to how richly innervated that region is, not to the body region's physical size. Areas of the body with greater or more complex sensory or motor connections are represented as larger in the homunculus, those with fewer or less complex connections are represented as smaller. The resulting image is that of a distorted human body, with disproportionately huge hands, lips, and face

10/7, 8/2017 Seminar

Course Objective

Palpation diagnosis is very useful and the most important diagnostic tools in TCM. This course will teach how to find tender spot and Ashi point using advanced palpation techniques, and guidance treatments. It will enhance the practitioner's diagnostic knowledge, skill and confidence in using palpation in their own practice. The course will include lecture, practical demonstration, instruction, and application, and practitioner hands on practice so that they get immediate feedback from the instructor on accurate usage of techniques. It will include palpation explanations and techniques for different types of injuries

I. Instruction

1. What is the palpation?

Palpation is the process of using practitioner's hands to examine the body, especially while perceiving/diagnosing a disease or illness. it is the process of feeling an object in or on the body to determine its size, shape, firmness, texture, location, and tenderness of an organ or body part. Palpation is an important part of the physical examination; the sense of touch is just as important in this examination as the sense of sight is.
