

Dear Friends,

Thank you for registering for my Deepening Perspectives on Chinese Medicine course commencing this October.

The structure of the course is that each session will have assigned readings, a video to watch of me discussing the material (and possibly audio for the super motivated!), and a 1.5 Hour Q & A session where I will answer your questions on the material.

My advice is to first read straight through the book now without much deliberation (I know, even a sentence could take years to look into, because that's what it took me). Then when we read the book together over 24 weeks, we will take it slow and go in depth.

In the last week of September you'll receive an email with a URL giving you the first assignment, the video and audio, and some questions to consider.

This course has the potential to be quote developmental and WILL BE, in proportion to your engagement. Please come to each session brimming over with questions!!!

There is still room in the course for colleagues and friends.

I am so excited about this course and look forward to working with you, I believe it will be groundbreaking.

Warmly, Lonny S. Jarrett
